

U.S. Army Aviation and Missile Command "Readiness at the Point of Need"

AMCOM G-8, Resource Management

The G-8's strength lies in the talent, experience and dedication of its employees. Experts in many diverse disciplines, the AMCOM G-8 staff works cooperatively as an integrated team, focused on strategic dominance. The organization seeks innovative approaches to developing solutions and appreciates unconventional thinking, daring ideas and bold solutions. AMCOM G-8 fosters open and cooperative relationships with higher headquarters, supported Combatant and Army commands, Army staff partners, and sister services to both exceed expectations and to support the success of others.

Mission: To ensure the delivery of defensible and sustainable resource solutions in the areas of financial/accounting, manpower, contracting oversight, policy, programs, automation and professional development while achieving exceptional stewardship and auditable outcomes.

Throughout the Army, G-8 success at programming, analysis and materiel integration is central to achieving the Army Vision of transforming into a strategically responsive and dominant force. AMCOM G-8 shares the sense of urgency and commitment necessary to rebuild the Army's strategic readiness while accelerating our efforts to transform and modernize. They will continue to focus on developing flexibility and capability while supporting the sustainment and readiness of aviation and missile systems in support of the nation's interests and while always maintaining Soldiers as the focus of the AMCOM mission. AMCOM G-8 supports the overall G-8 vision is to:

- Support the War
- Focus on the Soldier
- Institutionalize care for Soldiers and Families
- Modernize and Rebuild the Army's Strategic Readiness
- Think Sustain, Prepare, Reset, Transform
- Continue professional development of the G8 workforce

